Description

A two-bedroom apartment in Trachoni is finished and ready for key handover now, with a 2026 build date and an A energy rating. The internal layout runs to 66 square meters and holds two bedrooms and one bathroom, unfurnished and open to whatever furnishing plan a new owner chooses.

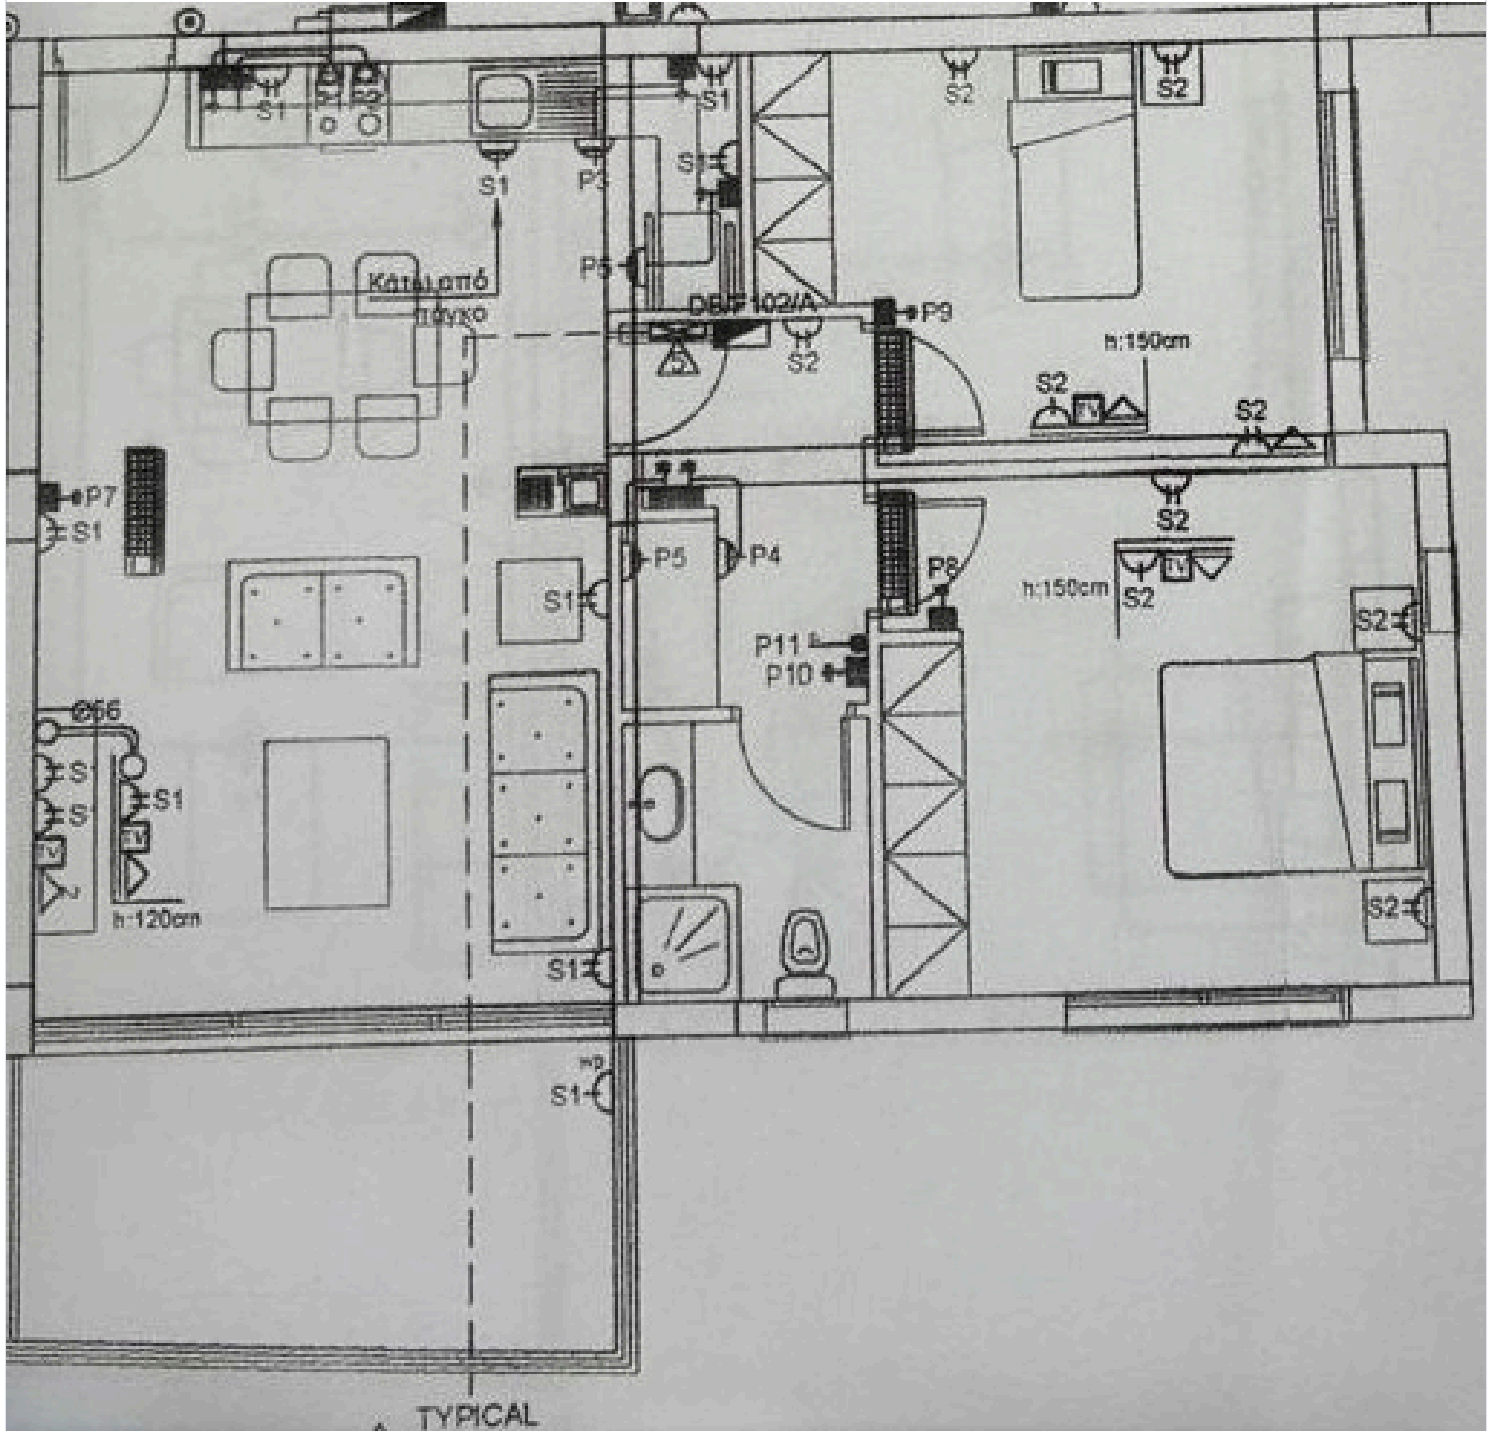

Central air conditioning serves the apartment throughout, keeping the interior comfortable across seasons without relying on separate units room by room. The building has an elevator, useful for moving furniture in or simply avoiding the stairs day to day.

The apartment sits close to amenities, putting everyday errands within easy reach rather than requiring a longer trip out of the area. Trachoni itself is a village in Cyprus, and the immediate surroundings support that kind of practical, close-to-home routine.
